Little Rain Is in Prospect In Midwestern Corn Areas

Forest Fires Rage Unchecked in California and Idaho; Waco, Texas Is Reported Hottest Week-End Spot in Nation

(By The Associated Press)
Little rain was in prospect for the nation's thirsty corn and soybean crops today as a heat wave experienced a heat wave for the second Monday in a row with forecasts predicting some relief Tuesday.

In the corn belt no rain was in immediate sight except for scattered showers in western and central Nebraska in the next day or two, the U. S. Weather Bureau said.

Although forest fires still raged in Idaho and California they were under control with little prospect of showers in western and central Nebraska in the next day or two, the U. S. Weather Bureau said.

A cooling air mass from the northwest moved very slowly across the Dakotas and into Minnesota today and it was expected to bring relief from near 100-degree temperatures in Iowa, Indiana, and southern Wisconsin by late Tuesday.

The nation's hot spot Sunday was Waco, Tex., which reported an above average 107. Aberdeen, Tyndall and Pierre, S. D., were close behind with 106.

The temperature was 100 or over in Kansas City for the 11th time in the last 15 days Sunday with a high of 100 to 104 expected today.

Temperatures were near 100 in Chicago, St. Louis and Detroit today with some relief expected late Tuesday.

The heat wave was expected to move slowly eastward causing a few degrees rise in mercury readings in eastern Indiana and Ohio extending to Pittsburgh today. The warmth will creep farther east Tuesday.

Some rise in temperature and humidity are expected late today and Tuesday in the eastern seaboard and New England.

Field Day Plans Being Completed

Kurdt Says Commercial Exhibits Are Above Usual Number

Final plans for the Ulster County Fair and Farmers' Field Day, which will be held at Forsyth Park, Wednesday, August 20, are rapidly nearing completion, according to Albert Kurdt, secretary of the event.

More than the usual number of commercial exhibits will be on display and completion for the $7,000 in possible cash premiums for agricultural and homemaking exhibits will be seen, Mr. Kurdt said. Thus far entries are coming in slow, but Mr. Kurdt expects the rush to start this week.

A large section of the fair will be devoted to the vegetable exhibit, and any home gardener or commercial grower may exhibit his produce. These exhibits usually consist of five specimens of different vegetables. In some instances, as for example pumpkins and cabbage, only one specimen is required.

There are more than 30 different classes of vegetables that may be displayed, for which prizes will be offered. A grand prize will be awarded to the individual who enters the largest number of vegetable exhibits.

Fair Is Unique

The annual fair is unique in many respects, according to Mr. Kurdt. It is the only county fair in the state that lasts only one day. No admission is charged, and there is no midway. This fair is a combination of the once

Head, Legs Sought

Woman's Body Discovered in Detroit; Believed 20 Years Old

Detroit, Aug. 11 (AP)—Police ransacked a six-block area today for the head and legs of a young woman's body which was found cut into sections and hidden in an alley yesterday.

The victim was identified through scars on the torso as Mrs. Jean Howard Treask, about 20. A junk dealer found one section of the body, from the waist to the knees, bundled into a blanket Sunday morning. The upper part, wrapped in a gray bedspread and stuffed into a shopping bag, was discovered later in a garbage receptacle.

Senior Inspector John O. Whitman of the homicide said the woman might have been tortured before she was slain. He said there were wounds on the chest and marks on the right arm, indicating she had been tied up.

Carro's House Is Damaged When Car Leaves Street

The front porch of a house owned by James Carro, 355 Foxhall avenue, was damaged in an accident at 1:08 Sunday, according to the local police.

The porch was struck, the report said, when an auto operated by James E. Castle, 173 Smith avenue, was turning from Elmendorf street into Foxhall avenue.

Castle told the police, according to the report, that another auto traveling north on Foxhall avenue, had caused him to swerve quickly to the curb and the auto damaged the lawn and garden of the Carro property before it struck the porch.

Officers Kenneth Hyatt and Leonard Ellsworth, who investigated, arrested Castle on a charge of operating an auto without an operator's license in his possession. He was fined $5 in city court today.

Affair Will Be Held for Woodstockers and Friends; Support Is Pledged

Woodstock, Aug. 11—Kenneth L. Wilson, Woodstock township supervisor, has given assurance that any possible disorder which might arise during the contemplated Maverick Festival to be held Saturday, Aug. 23, can be controlled.

According to a report from the committee promoting the festival as a memorial to the late Hervey White, Supervisor Wilson said, "If the program you have described is followed, I think it would be a good thing. We are confident that we could control any disorder which might take place at such an affair."

One former Woodstock resident said today, "Strange opposition from strange sources has developed to the idea of reviving the festival. Most of the opposition seems to arise from those who, without saying so, doubt the ability of the Woodstock town officials to handle their own affairs. It seems to me the township is doing better than it ever has in many ways. It's the result of constructive thinking. In a community such as Woodstock folk activities are stressed and the idea of reviving its famed folk festival is strictly in order."

From what I can gather in talking to Woodstockers of this week-end, one person seems to have generated the spark to kill the festival. The person named is said to be a resident of Woodstock. I can't understand a true Woodstocker doing such a thing, but then we all have our problems."

Meeting Tonight

The program referred to by Mr. Wilson is the one which will be submitted to persons attending a public meeting at the Maverick Concert Hall this evening, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of augmenting the present committee and making final plans for the festival.

The plan includes a reception at the Maverick between 4 and 6 o'clock; outdoor picnic supper and children's costume parade, outdoor orchestral concert, outdoor show during which individuals or groups in costume will be introduced and judged for prizes, performance of the current play in the Maverick Theatre and dance in the Maverick Concert Hall. The committee also said that admission would be restricted to Woodstock residents and their friends.

Festival Idea Upheld

Representative and substantial citizens of Woodstock most of whom attended the old Maverick Festival were queried for opinions regarding a revival of this colorful event as a Hervey White memorial. Such opinions as given by the committee are quoted:

"MRS. KES VAN DER LOO. "If a program can be set up at this time which will be recognized as upholding the dignity and the spirit of the original festival and as a community project, we are in favor of it."

MISS NAN MASON said, "It would be wonderful. When it was a Woodstock affair, it was colorful. After outsiders came in and spoiled it and Hervey White gave it up. Wilma Hervey and I continued a similar festival at our farm for several years. We had as many as 300 people. The program was very good."

Philippine Doctor Would Like to Forget Her Unpleasant Life Under Japs During War

Incidents of life in the Philippines under Japanese occupation are unpleasant memories to be left "buried in the back of the mind," Dr. Alicia de la Paz of Manila, one of two women doctors currently visiting the city, said recently in a brief interview.

This view was shared by her colleague, Dr. Julia M. Alarilla, during the interview in the office of the County Health Department where they have been furthering their public health education through observation of local methods.

Dr. de la Paz saw the Japanese turn their fury against natives of Manila during the heavy bombings at American forces moved in to take the city, and she was forced to flee as thousands of others in the bombed areas had done when block after block was reduced to burning ruins. The young woman doctor had seen hardship follow hardship

Odom Plans Third Trip; Sets Record

Veteran Flyer Buzzes Chicago Tower 73 Hours After Leaving on Global Hop
Had Close Escape

Awoke Once to Find Plane Flashing at Mountain Peak

Chicago, Aug. 11 (AP)—Pilot Bill Odom said today that he would try it again after setting a new record for the fastest trip around the world.

The 27-year-old veteran flyer broke all previous globe circling records as he buzzed the Douglas airport control tower yesterday just 73 hours, five minute and 11 seconds after leaving Chicago Thursday on his 19,645 mile solo trip.

"The good Lord was taking care of me for a while last night," Odom said, explaining that he had dozed off from fatigue over the mountains of western Canada and awoke to find himself flashing toward a 19,000 foot mountain peak.

Despite failure of an automatic pilot, lack of gas near the end of the trip, and extreme weariness, Odom, with his converted army A-26 bomber, the Reynolds Bombshell, broke all existing records. These included the former solo record set in 1933 by the late Wiley Post, of 136 hours and 49 minutes, and the previous flight of the Bombshell with Odom, Milton Reynolds, Chicago pen manufacturer, and flight engineer T. Carroll Salter, which made the trip in 78 hours 55 minutes last April.

Odom's average speed for the flight, including nine hours and 50 minutes on the ground, was approximately 269 miles an hour; but during the 63 hours and 15 minutes of flying time he averaged 310.5 miles per hour.

To Enter Air Races
Franklin Lamb, Odom's flight manager, said the youthful pilot would enter the Bendix Air Race.

Most of the stores will be open until 5 p. m. Thursday and Saturday, and until 9 p. m. Friday.

Auto Demolished, Stamford Man Is Slightly Injured

Turns Over Several Times, Strikes Pole, Lands on Its Top on Abell Street

John G. Schmid, Jr., of 16 Horan street, Stamford, Conn., escaped with slight injuries, according to a police report when the auto in which he was riding was demolished as it turned over several times, struck a pole and landed on its top in an accident on Abell street at 1:30 a. m. Sunday.

Schmid, the report said, escaped with only lacerations of the scalp for which he was treated at the scene by two men from a tanker docked along Abell street.

The police reported that Schmid was driving south on Abell street when his auto struck a platform truck near 613 Abell street. The truck, owned by Thomas Williams, was operated by Ralph F. Masten, 40 Boulder avenue, and according to the report, was left parked in front of the Abell street address.

Schmid reported, the police said, that his roadster struck the rear corner of the truck, glanced off to the left side of the road as it headed toward Eddyville and turned over several times.

After the roadster hit the truck, its driver reported, and was turned over, it struck a pole of the New York Telephone Company in its awry course and broke it off near its base. The car finally came to rest on its top in the left center of the road, the police said.

The report said that the roadster was demolished but that the truck was not damaged.

Woman Is Killed

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Aug. 11 (AP)—Mrs. Catherine Spillor, 43, of Poughkeepsie, was killed early today when her car rolled off the Main street dock here into the Hudson river, police reported. The car was hauled from 40 feet of water by a movable crane and the body recovered, police said.

Both of the young doctors reported that the main concern of the natives under Japanese domination was to secure sufficient food and clothing to keep alive. Military police units were established in each town and in rural outposts and sentries kept constant watch over all activities of the natives.

Japanese soldiers usually arrived in an area without food, the women said, and they deprived the natives of major portions of available food supplies. Food rations for natives were dangerously light throughout the island.

Memorial Coins Now at Freeman

Second Shipment of Booker T. Washington Coins Arrive

Another shipment of memorial half-dollars honoring Booker T. Washington has been received by the Kingston Daily Freeman and are now on sale at both the up-town and downtown offices of The Freeman. The initial shipment of these memorial coins was sold in record time and the large demand necessitated another order.

Priced at one dollar, the memorial coin serves a dual purpose. It is a collector's item honoring the noted Negro educator, and proceeds from the sale will go toward building a specialized industrial training school at his birthplace, Franklin county, Virginia. The coin is legal tender.

In effect, the buyer gets a legal half-dollar and makes a 50-cent contribution to the school. The coin is the first issued by the United States to bear the likeness of a Negro and the first designed by a member of that race. Authorized by Congress in 1946, the coins are minted at San Francisco, Philadelphia and Denver and sold at face value to the Booker T. Washington Birthplace Memorial Inc., the sponsoring organization of which S. J. Phillips, former student and teacher at Tuskegee, is president. The Memorial sells them at a profit to assist in building the school.

The memorial coins means a morale builder for the Negro citizens of America, who are especially proud of the life and achievements of Booker T. Washington. The coin also is a symbol of a tribute to the ideals of service since Mr. Washington's life was an embodiment of these principles.

Police Are Alerted When 4 Prisoners Make Salem Break

Men Are Said to Be Armed; Are in Car Bearing Massachusetts Tag 234-857

Local police were alerted through special message today to be on the lookout for four armed prisoners, described as "very dangerous" who were reported escaped from Essex county jail, Salem, Mass.

The report said that the prisoners overpowered two guards, took their guns and robbed them of $100.

James W. McDonald, 20, of Worcester, Mass., The Associated Press reported, used a pistol believed smuggled from the outside, and led the escapes when he held up a guard who had opened his cell so it would be cleaned. He then locked the guard in the cell and released the others.

Working silently and deliberately, the four prisoners waited long enough to rob the guards and to open a small jail safe containing property of other prisoners.

The jail housed 67 men and 14 women prisoners, who remained calm.

Making their way through the main office of the jail, the four escaped held up Steward John Wilson as he was reporting for work and stole his car for a getaway.

Escaping with McDonald, a reformatory parolee, being held for the grand jury, were Richard Wysocky, 20, of Salem, held for the grand jury on a charge of assault with intent to rape; Joseph F. Powers, 32, of Salem, held for the grand jury on charges of assault with intent to murder; and Rudolph W. Limauro, 18, of Lynn, who is serving an 18 months' sentence for larceny.

The report to the local police described the car as a 1936 Plymouth black sedan bearing license number 234-859, Mass.

Ferguson Says Meyer Is Missing

Hughes Says Senator Took Run-Out When He Saw Battle Was Lost

'Deserted' Senators Brewster Act Gave His Aides No Reason to 'Fight for Him'

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Senate inquiry into Howard Hughes' plane contracts was adjourned today until fall, and Hughes declared it was called off because Senator Brewster (R-Me.) was "too cowardly" to continue their fight.

Hughes made this charge in a statement read to newsreel cameramen after the Senate war investigating committee had abruptly adjourned its inquiry into his $40,000,000 wartime plane contracts until November 17.

Brewster is chairman of the full committee. Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) chairman of a subcommittee conducting the hearings, announced that the group decided on the delay because John W. Meyer, Hughes' party throwing publicity man, could not be located for further testimony on his expense accounts.

With Brewster vacationing in Maine, Hughes said that the committee chairman had fought a "losing battle against public opinion."

Brewster and Hughes, millionaire Hollywood plane builder, exchanged charges before the committee in testimony last week. With both under oath, Hughes charged and Brewster denied that the senator offered last winter to call off the inquiry if Hughes would agree to a merger of Trans World Airlines with Pan American Airways.

Hughes, Hollywood film producer and plane designer, holds a controlling interest in T.W.A. Brewster left Washington Friday after the subcommittee had closed hearings on that particular aspect of the case and turned to circumstances of how Hughes got his plane contracts.

"When Senator Brewster saw he was fighting a losing battle against public opinion," Hughes declared, "he folded up and took a run-out powder."

"Too Hot for Him"
"When Senator Brewster headed for the backwoods of Maine, that was the tip-off. Washington was getting too hot for him!"

"There was no reason for the other senators on this committee to continue his losing battle for him if he was too cowardly to stay here and face the music."

Hughes said the other senators "saw no reason to carry Senator Brewster's banner against an overwhelming avalanche of public opinion."

The Hollywood plane builder said he thought the hearing had been adjourned "because the people of this country render the final decision in any controversy" and were back of him.

Hughes previously had told reporters he does not believe the hearings ever will be resumed.

Says Orders Given Japanese Says One of Three Generals Demanded Beheadings

Yokohama, Aug. 11 (AP)—A Japanese defendant told an Eighth Army Military Commission today that one of three Japanese generals gave orders to "chop the heads off" two American fliers for whose execution the generals and five others are being tried.

The Americans, Lt. Robert Nelson of Minneapolis, Kas., and S/Sgt. Algy Stanley Augunas of Bay Shore, N. Y., were given a brief trial after their B-29 was shot down in a raid on Kobe. Swordsman hacked at their heads and then shot them.

Defendant Yorio Ogiya, who prosecuted Nelson and Augunas, said he had asked Maj. Gen. Miyatori Ohtahara, a Japanese army judicial officer how the Americans should be executed.

Ohtahara replied: "Chop their heads off." Ogiya testified.

SUNDAY OUTINGS

When Sunday brings a day of blue
I like to plan an outing
In Nature's Summer rendezvous
And do a bit of scouting.

I like to peek a picnic box
That is, to supervise it;
Then boldly shut each door that locks,
To sort of equalize it.

I like to go beyond the hills,
And search a spot secluded,
Where shade abounds and water spills,
And ants are not included.

I like to snooze in hour or so
While mother clears the dishes,
As idle dreamings come and go,
Designed of hidden wishes.

When Monday morning rolls around,
All things are realistic;
But dreams I saw on Sunday ground
Reap viewpoints optimistic.

traces at Cleveland Aug. 30 and is planning another global flight in late October with scientists and newsmen aboard.

For the races he will fly a plane that Lamb says still is a secret, but added that "it will do considerably better than 500 miles an hour."

The new "round the world trip" will be the hard way—via the poles—Lamb said, and will probably start and end in Chicago or Washington, and be routed over Greenland, the North Pole, Alaska, Tokyo, New Zealand, South Pole and South America.

Lamb added that a converted Army B 32 will be used on the flight, to be sponsored by Milton Reynolds, who backed the record-breaking Odom flights.

The record trip just ended started at 12:53 p. m. (E.S.T.), Thursday with stops at Gander, Newfoundland, Paris, Cairo, Karachi and Calcutta, India; Tokyo, Anchorage, Alaska; Fargo, N. D.; (E.S.T.), Sunday. Three minutes later Odom landed at the Chicago Municipal Airport, 22 miles south of his starting point.

Clean-Shaven, Smiling
He climbed out of his plane clean-shaven and smiling, as if he had returned from a short pleasure jaunt, not a grueling flight of over three nearly sleepless days.

He was greeted by his wife who cried "Bill! You look wonderful!" his two children, Ronnie, 3, and Rochelle, 6, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Odom of Kansas City, along with Mayor Martin H. Kennedy of Chicago, and thousands of cheering spectators.

"Almost ignoring a tray of food and ice cream, Odom eagerly related the story of his trip."

He said the winds were against him, and told of facing a monsoon in London, a blizzard in the "Hump" which knocked out the automatic pilot.

It was between Anchorage and Fargo that Odom said he "colapsed with fatigue." He said he awakened an hour and thirty minutes later to find his plane had reversed its course and dropped from 20,000 to 16,000 feet.

"I looked up and I was headed straight for a huge cloud. No, I thought, that's not a cloud. I turned to go around it and then saw it was a huge, treacherous ledge of ice. It looked like a glacier. It was the top of a mountain, 19,000 feet above the ground, the second highest on the continent. It made me sick at my stomach." The young pilot said he didn't remember the name of the peak.

years of occupation and clothing was as scarce . . .

Such clothing and food as was available, most of the time was sold at exorbitant prices, and few natives could afford to buy anything, they reported.

Dr. de la Paz said that the Japanese soldiers cut off the water supply in Manila as the American forces advanced on the city and that fires spread over wide areas in the city. The Japanese bayoneted many natives on the streets and inflicted hardships on a large percentage of the population.

The wounded in the area, she reported, were without organized medical aid, but such health and medical units as were available were in constant attendance. The Japanese kept many native Philippine nurses in their employ, and these, she said, they paid well, but were not available to attend the native wounded.

Dr. de la Paz said her home was in one of the districts of Manila which was heavily bombed and shelled as the Japanese were being driven out of the city, and that she and her family were forced to flee as the house was destroyed.

They went to another house for shelter and when this was also destroyed they were forced to take refuge in a bomb shelter which had been constructed hurriedly for hundreds from the bombed areas.

Both of the young doctors were reluctant to discuss details of their experiences. They are now more interested in the future, they said, and they feel that progress in their country for the years to come will be discouragingly slow. Reconstruction is now progressing at a slow rate, they said, and it will take many years before the Philippines make up for the losses suffered in the war.

The U. S. Health Service is helping to raise the health standard of the islands. The doctor said, and their presence in this country represents part of one important step now under way.

They are two of a group of 25 young doctors who have been sent to the United States through the service. They will remain in Ulster county until August 27, when they will leave to continue their education in New England. Dr. Alarilla at Yale and Dr. de la Paz at Harvard.

Plane Brings Parts

A three-hour roundtrip flight by the Mid-Hudson Flying Service from Kingston to Syracuse last week saved 20 tons of perishable goods, it was learned today. A van of Van Kleeck's Trucking service of Kingston broke down in Saugerties while en route to New York with the huge load of perishable goods. The only available parts to correct the trouble were in Syracuse. The flying service was notified and a plane returned three hours later with the necessary parts. The truck then continued on its destination to New York where the perishables were unloaded.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 11 (AP).—Four persons were killed in a three-car automobile crash at Troy as week-end accidents upstate took a toll of 10 lives.

Mrs. Stimpson's Fortune Is Given To 'Friend, Nurse'

The will of Carrie A. Buckman Stimpson, widow of Edwin E. Stimpson, of Brooklyn, who died June 27 at the Governor Clinton Hotel and was buried in Hudson, has been probated at Brooklyn. She leaves to two former maids each $500 and gives the remainder of her property to Dorothy M.

Bradley "friend and nurse," of 576 Third street, Brooklyn. The document, executed June 25, 1942, names Henry V. Rau, of Amityville, and Frank Jezek, of Glendale, as executors of the estate, estimated at about $20,000 in realty and about $70,000 in personalty. August 21 is the date set for the proving the document.

Mrs. Stimpson, who was about 90 years old, was well known in Catskill and Palenville, where for nearly 50 years she and her late husband spent their summers at the Maple Grove House, when Frederick J. Timmerman and the late Mrs. Timmerman conducted that resort. During much of that time Egbert Saxo of Kiskatom was their summer chauffeur. A close friend of the late Dr. Lyle B. Honeyford, of Catskill, who was in large measure responsible for the erection of the Memorial Hospital of Greene county, the late Mr. Stimpson, through his friendship for Dr. Honeyford contributed large amounts toward the hospital.

Trailer Overturns

A small trailer coupled to a larger one hauled by a truck of Coleman's Brothers Carnival overturned at Greenkill avenue and Wall street shortly after 4:30 a. m. Sunday, according to the Safety Tip

If you've ever played poker, maybe you know chances of drawing a full house are one in 694; a royal straight flush, one in 649,740. All chances of making a fortune at gambling are slim.

Chance-taking on highways is risky business, too—especially passing on hills and blind curves. Take the driver who's stuck in a long line of cars, behind a 1930 jalopy that's belching exhaust fumes in his face. "Does he fume, too, and step on the gas?" Not if he's smart, he doesn't. He knows there's a very good possibility that on the other side of that hill, another driver is also toying with the idea of pulling out of line.

No one has figured out the mathematical odds involved in highway gambling. But everybody knows that the dealer is death—who never lends the loser a shirt to wear home. And that the stakes are human lives, and broken, crippled bodies.

The truck was hauling equipment of the carnival which had played on the Albany avenue extension show grounds last week. The trailer was righted and on its way shortly after the accident, the report said.

Development of Proper Driver Attitude Necessary if Annual Traffic Toll Is to Be Reduced

Otto F. Messner, president, American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators, and Deputy Secretary of Department of Revenue, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, is the author of this article, which he has written in connection with the national highway safety program of the State Press and Publisher Associations.

Most safety experts will agree that the ultimate solution of the safe driver problem rests in the development of the proper driver attitude. Those of us who are charged with responsibility of keeping an official eye upon the traffic situation in our respective states know that bad driving has been at the bottom of nearly every accident we have recorded. Chance-taking, speedsters, poor judgment at a curve, failure to guess the other fellow in the desire to beat him to it, along with a hundred and one other little faults in the drivers' attitude, have been piling up a national casualty record, which has made that of the terrible war just ended seem almost insignificant.

All of these faults just mentioned could have been corrected by proper training when the operator first began to learn how to drive a car. However, the success of that training, like the success of all training, would depend entirely upon the attitude of the person receiving it. All the training in the world will not overcome the erratic actions of a born fool. Only by the most severe punitive measures can be handled and restrained.

The development of proper driver attitude is divided into two separate phases: Correcting the faults of present drivers and training future drivers.

The first phase is that of endeavoring to correct the driver attitude of present-day drivers who have had little or no training, and who may have had bad driving habits of long standing. Only by utilizing every channel and vehicle of propaganda, through the medium of the press, the radio, the motion picture, the spoken word, by organized local campaigns and intensive cooperation by all civic organizations and civic-minded individuals can the individual at the wheel of the car today be made safety conscious. The same kind of patriotic appeal must be made to them as is made in behalf of the Red Cross, Community Chest, the Salvation Army and other worthy causes. In other words, civic consciousness must be aroused before the individual driver can fully appreciate and carry out, not only his responsibility to himself and his family, but to the other fellow and the community at large.

That phase of the driver problem is by far the most difficult because it must deal with a great number of people who today are driving motor vehicles with reckless disregard for their own lives and those of their fellowmen. It will require tremendous effort and a heavy expenditure of funds if it is to be far-reaching enough to get the desired results. That results can be obtained has been definitely proved.

Where there have been intensive civic safety movements and intensive publicity, the traffic casualty list has gone down. We have had that experience in Pennsylvania since last August, when the Governor's Safety Campaign was inaugurated. There has been constant activity and organized effort in every section of our Commonwealth. Fatalities have decreased along with injuries and accidents. In Pennsylvania, we have been so encouraged by the results, that we propose to add still greater impetus to the campaign in the days ahead. We believe we are giving it the leadership that any such campaign must have.

The other phase of the driver attitude problem is safety education in the schools. There has been steadily increasing interest and considerable action in this field in recent months. Education is the real solution of the driver attitude problem.

To develop the proper driver and pedestrian attitude there must be an intensive educational program in all of the schools of the country, starting at the very foundation with the kindergarten where the child gains its first real impressions of life and begins forming those habits which very often cling throughout a lifetime. These little ones are the potential drivers. If they learn to drive right, they will conserve human life rather than destroy it. Teach the young generation the meaning of traffic laws, the killing potentialities of the automobile, the rules of the road, the obligation of courtesy to others and the vital necessity of making sure at all times that the cars they are driving are mechanically perfect. If you teach them all that, then you will have come as close to having developed the proper driver attitude as it is humanly possible to do.

We have a grave and dangerous problem in the millions of bad drivers we must cope with today. Only by the most stringent measures of enforcement and education can we solve it. The problem of tomorrow—that of the potential driver—can and will be solved by education.

First Arabian Oil Well

The first oil well in Saudi Arabia was driven in 1935, but a successful producer was not driven until 1938.

Road's Instructions Carefully Followed

Greenville, Pa., Aug. 11 (AP)—Fred Luce, 68-year-old veteran Erie railroad passenger, was instructed that he must keep a "dead man's pedal" pressed to the floor or air brakes would stop his new Diesel locomotive automatically.

Yesterday Erie's train No. 7, New York to Chicago flyer, ground to an unscheduled stop several miles east of Greenville. Across the engine, cab from Fireman Tom E. Johnston Luce had slumped to the floor, his foot off the pedal.

Dr. R. W. Brown said that Luce, a resident of Meadville, Pa., had died after a heart attack.

Navy Has Better Offer for Veterans

Chief Steve Smith, recruiter in charge for the U. S. Navy in this area, has announced that former navy men in certain classifications, discharged on or after August 15, 1945, may now be enlisted in the rating held at the time of discharge, or a rating slightly lower. In making the announcement, Chief Smith urged that all ex-navy men who are interested in enlisting or re-enlisting, call at the navy recruiting station for full particulars on this new offer. The order expires on October 31.

Glasco to Celebrate Assumption Feast

Glasco, Aug. 11—The feast of the Assumption will be celebrated in this community next Saturday and Sunday with an elaborate social and religious program.

Saturday night, starting at 9 o'clock, there will be a display of fireworks lasting until midnight, under the direction of Carmelo Costantino, general manager of the North American Fireworks Co., and open air dancing will be another feature, with music by a popular orchestra.

Sunday at 10 a. m. there will be a solemn high Mass in St. Joseph's Church, with a procession through the village, starting at 2:30 p. m., led by Ferraro's Band.

Chairmen of the celebration committee are Thomas Martino and Charles Pasqua, who are being assisted by the Holy Name Society of Glasco, sponsors of the religious features.

Hawks' Menace Removed

Yonkers, N. Y., Aug. 11 (AP)—Elderly women residents of the New York Guild for Jewish Blind could sun themselves in their garden today with little fear that they again would be molested by hawks that several times last week swooped down and pecked at them. Police said a man living near the home shot one of the pair of hawks Saturday, and since then its mate has avoided the vicinity of the home. Police Lt. Arthur Rowland theorized that the white hair of the women attracted the birds.

Germantown Theatre To Stage 'Hasty Heart'

Germantown, Aug. 11—The Sail Loft Company will open this week's dramatic production, "The Hasty Heart" on Tuesday, featuring Paul Anderson, who played with Ethel Barrymore in "The Corn Is Green," as Lachie the over-serious Scotsman.

The role of the nurse, whose gentle understanding teaches him to trust love and laughter, will be played by Joan Lovelace. Others in the cast: Herschel Bentley, David Ryan, Martin Newman, J. Wilbur Riker, Hugh Rennie, and William Mullany.

Christensen to Play

Cooperating with the Recreation Department, the Musicians Union will have Ole Christensen's band for the dance at Hasbrouck Park this evening from 8 to 10 o'clock. Judging from the crowd the Columbians drew at the first of a series of dances held at Forsyth Park, it is felt the attendance at Hasbrouck Park will beat the record of 500 spectators and participants in the dancing at Forsyth Park. Every citizen of Kingston, young or old, is invited.

Evolution of a Gag (Variety)

The house organ of a glue works prints a bright saying by the six-year-old prodigy of the general manager.

A copywriter for a New York advertising agency reads the gag and tells it as an original at Toots Shor's.

An eavesdropping Broadway character gets a cut of it and gives an elaborated version in Jewish dialect at Lindy's.

Milton Berle and Henny Youngman overhear it simultaneously and tell the gag that same night on their respective shows. (Next day Berle and Youngman accuse each other of stealing from each other.)

A press agent does a switch on the gag for Walter Winchell's column, crediting the witticism to one of his celebrity accounts.

Nine New York radio comedians pick it up and tell it on their programs within the next three days.

When a woman goes on a drastic diet, she has one or both of two objectives in mind—to retain her girlish figure, or her boyish husband.

Schirick, Modjeska, Wicks Win in Seniors Golf

Week-end Sports

First Two Have 77 Gross; Senator Tops Net With 64

Twaalfskill Golf Club golfers dominated the 15th annual Hudson River Golf Association Seniors Tournament Saturday at Twaalfskill, as Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick and Eddie Modjeska tied for low gross in Class B with 77; Senator Arthur H. Wicks captured Class B low net with 64; A. B. Shufeldt fired low gross in Class A with 86 and Harold F. King copped low net in Class A with 72.

Class A was for golfers 60 years of age or over, with Class B from 50 to 59.

Twenty-two golfers participated in the tournament that had been postponed from June 14. Threatening weather materially reduced the entry list.

Justice Schirick scored rounds of 39 and 38. A 10-handicap gave him a net 77. Modjeska's outgoing round of 36 was the best in the tournament, but a triple bogie on a par-4 hole on the incoming nine sent his score up to 41 and a tie with Justice Schirick.

John Van Gonsle, lowest handicap player at Twaalfskill, shot second low gross in B with 42-37-73.

Wicks nets 64. Senator Arthur Wicks shot one of the finest competitive rounds of his career, when he toured the Twaalfskill terrain in 42 and 44 for a gross 86. His 22-handicap gave the straight-hitting legislator a net 64, good for first prize.

Modjeska missed a clear sweep of low gross and low net by two strokes, compiling 86 on an 11-handicap of 77.

Shufeldt leads A. A. B. Shufeldt, one of the grand old men of Twaalfskill golf, compiled an 86 gross with rounds of 42 and 44 in Class A, the 60-year division. H. F. King used a 24-handicap to good advantage, shooting 96 gross and 72 net for a prize in that division.

Trailing Schirick, Modjeska and Van Gonsle in Class B gross were B. A. "Bud" Culloton, of Twaalfskill and Franklin Schriver, Newburgh attorney, with 81s. Culloton was out in 42 and in with a neat 39, while Schriver posted rounds of 43 and 38.

Paul Weiss, of Poughkeepsie, secretary of the I.R.G.A., shot a gross 83 with rounds of 42-41, to finish a stroke behind Jim Dwyer, Twaalfskill, and J. O. Fuchs, Poughkeepsie, who carded 82s.

Frank's Drop Doubleheader In Middletown, 4-2 and 5-4

The Middletown All Stars overcame an early Frank's Sport Shop lead and pushed across the winning marker in the last of the seventh to nose out the Kingston muckers, 5 to 4, Sunday in the second game of a doubleheader in Middletown. The Middies copped the opener, 4 to 2 in daylight, with the nightcap being played under the lights.

A record crowd of softball fans saw the doubleheader which was played as a benefit for a Middletown player who was injured in a recent game.

Freer Takes Toughie. The double was a toughie for Ben Freer, Frank's hurler, who permitted only three hits but was hobbled by six errors. The locals made eight hits off Brock and McGill, the Middle hurlers.

Middletown clinched the game in their final turn at bat when Belotto and Dodd reached base on consecutive errors by Lindhurst. Larry Testa bunted safely, leading the bases. Freer induced Rhodes to pop up to Tierney and Link Crosby's clothesline throw to the plate after Cocco's fly kept the runners glued to their bases. Freer walked Goboe to force in the winning marker.

Frank's scored four times in the fourth inning off Gene Brock on Bill Tierney's double and steal, singles by Roe and Lindhurst, Crosby's walk and Eib Gill's out-field fly.

Joe Enright lost a tough decision in the daylight opener, permitting only six hits and walking two. Frank's counted a marker in the third on Myers' single, two stolen bases and a passed ball. The second run was the result of Crosby's single and Zelle's double. The boxscore:

Howard Hits 636 In Summer Loop

Dick Howard paced the Summer League kieglers with a 636 series last week, as Rudolph Plumbers took a pair from Blinder Dress Shop.

The youthful star rallied after a 166 opener to pile up counts of 232 and 238. Larry Weishaup, rolling in the rival anchor slot, rolled 212-575.

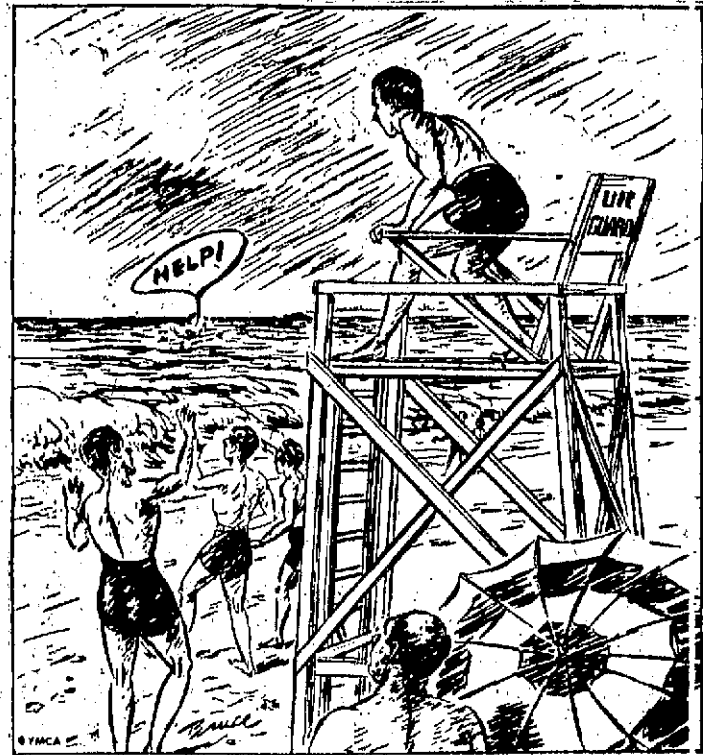

King's-ton Laundry edged Haber's Grill, 2-1, in a low scoring duel. W. Munay rolled 494 for the Laundry and J. Doyle 480 for Haber's.

Hofbrau decided Evergreen Inn, 2-1, behind Jack Hartman's 200-586. In the fourth match, Sam's Restaurant shut out Cartright's Dairy, with Bud Evans posting 553.

Waterbury Holds Colonial Lead

(By The Associated Press)

The Waterbury Timers, host team in tonight's Colonial Baseball League all-star game, came up to the big encounter with a firm grip on first place, their position improved by last night's double win over the skidding New London Raiders who dropped during the week from fourth place to just a notch above the cellar.

The timers will oppose a team composed of the best players of the other five clubs in the circuit, largely a crew of 300 plus hitters managed by Eric McNair whose Poughkeepsie Giants split a doubleheader yesterday with the up and coming Port Chester Clippers, copping a 12-3 victory after losing the first game 4 to 2.

At first base in the all-star array, McNair will have a former major leaguer as well known as himself, Manager Zeke Bonura of the Stamford Bombers who took a double fall out of the Bridgeport pine yesterday, winning both games 4 to 0.

Waterbury coasted to an easy 6-1 win over New London in the first game last night at Pitcher Billy Sharp chalked up his 14th victory in 21 starts, but the Raiders made a determined effort to avoid losing their eighth straight in the second game. They held a two-run lead in the eighth inning when Jimmy Acton, Timers' manager, broke up the party with a pinch home run with two men on base and two out, giving Waterbury the runs needed for a 7 to 6 victory.

Florida Bureau Will Join Battle Against 'Red Tide'

Clearwater, Fla., Aug. 11 (AP)—The Bureau of Engineering of the State Board of Health today was ready to join the battle against the "red tide" which has left millions of fish dead and rotting along Florida west coast beaches from Sarasota to Clearwater.

The office of Dr. Franklin P. Campbell, Pinellas county health director, said David B. Lee, head of the bureau, would lead a party surveying the situation.

"Thousands of fish were washing ashore along Pinellas beaches last night, and thousands more were a few hundred yards off land in a position to move in with a change of wind."

These fish were recently killed for the most part and lacked the odor which rose from earlier deposits, segments of a mass which had floated for days after dying in the Sarasota area to the south.

Scientists still are trying to determine the cause of the mysterious plague.

Dr. F. G. Walton Smith, director of the University of Miami marine laboratory, said the "red tide" was caused by millions of "micro-organisms which poisoned the water, but what has caused the sudden increase in the number of these tiny organisms has not been learned.

Playhouse Offers 'Glass Menagerie' With Miss Bavier

Woodstock, Aug. 11—For its eighth presentation, the Woodstock Playhouse announces Frances Bavier in Tennessee Williams' great play, "The Glass Menagerie." This play opens Tuesday to continue through Sunday.

The star, the play, and the author are all names known well to Woodstock audiences.

Miss Bavier has endeared herself to Woodstock not alone for her roles played this season but for her numerous and well remembered appearances at the Playhouse under the aegis of Bob Elwyn.

This season she has been seen as Mrs. Higgins in "Pygmalion," the baroness in "Topaze," and as grandma in "The Primrose Path."

As Amanda in "The Glass Menagerie," Miss Bavier has assumed a responsibility for she will play one of the most exacting roles of the American theatre.

Amanda is a Southern matron who lives in the glories of her girlhood when she had many gentlemen callers and in true Southern fashion greeted them in her lovely clothes and with all the splendour demanded by tradition of Southern usage.

At the opening of "The Glass Menagerie," Amanda is a matron with a grown son and daughter, and still living in the dreams of her girlhood, she tries to recreate for her now impoverished household the atmosphere of her girlhood — trying to make her reticent and crippled daughter prepared to receive her "gentlemen callers."

The climax of the play is reached when the gentlemen caller finally arrives. The outcome has charmed all audiences who have seen the play.

Miss Bavier follows Laurette Taylor in a play which was one of the greatest hits of Broadway in the last ten years. Supporting Miss Bavier will be Don McHenry, who plays "the son — the sole created on Broadway by Eddie Dowling. Cort Steen plays the role of the gentleman caller.

Marsh McLeod, who is best remembered for her masterly portrayal of Joan in "Joan of Lorraine" plays the daughter, Laura, the part created on Broadway by Julie Haydon.

Arrives in London

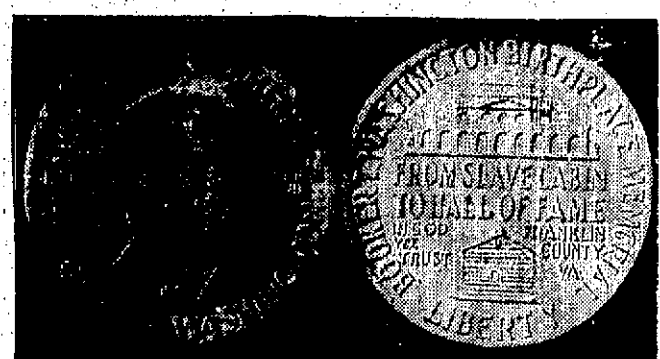

London, Aug. 11 (AP)—Boris Sergievsky, who landed his small Grumman amphibian plane at London airport last night after a 28-hour hop from New York, said he had made the transatlantic flight "just for fun" to see if his "little plane could do it."

Sergievsky, accompanied by his wife, a radio operator and Marina Svetlova, ballerina at the Metropolitan Opera, made stops at Greenland, Iceland and Prestwick en route. Tomorrow Sergievsky will fly to Paris, then pilot his ship back to New York.

Two Days in Jail

Daniel Sweeney, 43, of Tilton was arrested at the town of Rochester Sunday by the State Police on a charge of assault, third degree. Arraigned before justice of the peace Friend E. Wilklow, town of Rochester, Sweeney was sentenced to serve two days in the county jail.

Senate Halts

despite Ferguson's announcement that Meyer will be subpoenaed for an appearance Nov. 17.

It was very obvious from the time I first walked into this room that the public and the press were on my side," Hughes declared as newsmen cameras recorded his statement. "They believed that there was no justification for this investigation in the first place."

'Nothing, Labeled'

When Hughes had read his statement, once to "time it," he turned to his attorney, Thomas Slack, and said:

"Say, Tom, do you find anything libelous in this?"

"No," Slack replied.

Police had cleared the hearing room and only a few spectators were on hand when Hughes made the statement.

As he left the room, there was a burst of applause from many who had stood around outside the closed doors waiting for a glimpse of the man who has been the central figure in the Senate's most sensational hearings in years.

In announcing the decision to defer further hearings for three months, Ferguson gave two principal reasons:

Other demands on the Senators' time, including plans several have made for trips to Europe.

The inability of the committee to locate John W. Meyer, free-spending publicity man for Hughes.

Ferguson said that Nov. 17 was the earliest date that committee members could conclude other work, including the prospective trips to Europe.

But, Hughes, smiling broadly, told reporters:

"I don't really think the hearing will be reopened."

The Hollywood film producer and plane builder, also told questioning newsmen he thought the reason the committee gave for postponement was "ridiculous."

"I think that they postponed it because they didn't want it to continue," he said. "I don't believe it will be resumed November 17."

Hughes added that an impromptu news conference that was "quite sorry" the hearing had recessed.

He said the committee had heard "a lot of inaccurate testimony from witnesses who were ill informed."

Answering a question as to whether he thought the hearing

The support and cooperation of the town authorities.

The committee also requested that all interested persons who are for or against the revival of the Maverick Festival as a tribute to Hervey White come to the meeting tonight and express their opinions.

It was learned today that the committee is unanimous in its belief that the contemplated festivals could be annual affairs which would be a credit to the community, since all of the people in favor of reviving them are responsible residents who would not tolerate anything which even slightly resembled a so-called brawl. Furthermore, they stated, they would not depend entirely upon themselves to make certain these affairs would be all that was anticipated but would safeguard their judgment by asking

Plans for the Maverick Festival, it is understood, are in part an outgrowth of an increasing desire on the part of Woodstock residents for a day to be set aside each summer as a Woodstock Day when friends and families might gather for a picnic supper and evening of cultural entertainment. Reviving Hervey White's original plan was thought of as a memorial to the man who did so much for so many. The proceeds from the contemplated event are to be disbursed in approved amounts to worthy organizations in the community.

The proceeds from the contemplated event are to be disbursed in approved amounts to worthy organizations in the community.

accomplished anything, Hughes said: "Yes, I think something was accomplished by my coming. The fact that I had been a great deal of misconception about this case, for example, that it cost $1,500,000 to move the plane to the water when actually it cost only between $80,000 and $90,000."

Hughes said he never had a chance to tell "half of what I came to tell." He added that he still had about 400 pages of long-hand notes.

In reply to questions, Hughes said he doubts that the big flying boat will be ready to take to the air by November.

As for the photo reconnaissance plane, Hughes declared "I can't exactly say" when it will be completed.
